

32. A new function of influenza A virus neuraminidase spike

- Relation to host range, viral replication and global pandemic –

Yasuo Suzuki (University of Shizuoka)

We found that low-pH stability of influenza A virus neuraminidase spike is functionally linked to virus entry via endocytic pathway and contributes to the ability of virus replication, host range and also global pandemic.